

INCENTIVE PROGRAMS FOR NEW REFEREES

The Regina Soccer Referees' Association (RSRA) and the Regina Soccer Association (RSA) are encouraging people to take up the role of a soccer referee. Becoming a referee is a great way to learn more about the game of soccer, get some exercise, and develop life skills that will be beneficial throughout your personal and professional life. It's also a great part time job.

If you would like more information about becoming a soccer referee, you can contact the RSA or the RSRA as shown below.

To assist new referees, both the RSA and the RSRA have programs in place to provide financial incentives to become a soccer referee. These incentives help with initial start-up costs such as uniforms and equipment.

These programs are shown below. Please note that it is up to the individual referee to initiate requests for reimbursement under these programs!

To get more information on becoming a referee, you may contact the associations as shown below.

REGINA SOCCER REFEREES' ASSOCIATION (RSRA)

New referees are reimbursed 50% of their certification clinic fees after completing 15 games. Completion of the games can be in the role of an Assistant Referee, or the main Referee. Requests for reimbursement must be completed within 12 months from the referee certification being obtained.

Upon completion of the specified number of games, contact the Regina Soccer Referees' Association treasurer for reimbursement. The association treasurer can be reached via e-mail at george.rondeau@sasktel.net

REGINA SOCCER ASSOCIATION (RSA)

Referees who have completed their 15 game initiation with the RSRA are eligible to receive their $50 clinic registration fee and an additional $50 to cover the cost of their referee uniform and equipment.

Completion of the games can be in the role of an Assistant Referee, or the main Referee. Requests for reimbursement must be completed within 12 months from the referee certification being obtained.

Upon completion of the specified number of games, contact the Regina Soccer Association for reimbursement. Presentation of your RSRA pay sheet indicating that you have completed your initiation is all that you will need. The RSA can be reached via e-mail at reginasoccer@sasktel.net or by telephone at 352-8040.
